In the event that no notice of withdrawal (written or verbal) is provided, Arkansas Fashion School must automatically administratively withdraw a student after s/he has been absent for a maximum of 30 consecutive calendar days (excluding any scheduled breaks of the institution) and complete a refund calculation, processing any refunds to or on behalf of the student. The student will receive a refund that is the most beneficial to the student based on the two policies below. For a student in an online course, attendance is logged by activity, and projects turned in i.e. last academic activity, not by log in date.

A full refund to any student who cancels the enrollment contract within 72 hours after the enrollment contract is executed. A full refund to any student who cancels the enrollment contract within 72 hours after the enrollment contract is executed.

Policy I

Calculation of refund (Arkansas Fashion School):

After the first week, 10%, of the course, the refund shall be made on a pro rata basis, based on the total number of clock hours for which the course is licensed. At the completion of 50%, no refund is available (11). If the Arkansas Fashion School cancels a course subsequent to a student's enrollment, Arkansas Fashion School must refund all monies paid by the student (12.a.c).

Refund will be calculated using:

- a) Start Date
- b) Last date of attendance (LDA)
- c) Date of determination (DOD)
- d) Charges to the students
- e) Total amount paid
- f) Weeks earned and resulting percentage of program completed

Refund Due Dates:

1. If an applicant never attends class (no-show) or cancels the contract prior to the class start date, all refunds due will be made within forty-five (45) calendar days of the first scheduled day of class (12a).
2. For an enrolled and attending student, the refund will be calculated using the last day of attendance (LDA) and will be paid within forty-five (45) calendar days from the documented date of determination (DOD). The date of determination is the date that student gives written or verbal notice of withdrawal, or has met the consecutive absence date (12b).

Policy II

Calculation of refund (Arkansas State Policy):

Refund should be calculated using:

- a.) Cost and length of program/ course
- b.) Completion of program/course
 - I. At completion of less than 25% of the course, the refunds shall be made on a pro rata basis.
 - II. At completion of 25% but less than 50% of the course, the student shall be refunded not less than 50% of the tuition.
 - III. At completion of 50% but less than 75% of the course, the student shall be refunded not less than 25% of the tuition.
 - IV. At completion of 75% or more of the course no refund is due the student.

Arkansas Fashion School will give every student the opportunity to inspect and review his or her records within 2 week following its receipt of a request.

- A student has the right to request that inaccurate or misleading information in his or her education records be amended.
- While AFS is not required to amend records in accordance with a student's request, the school is required to consider the request. If the school decides not to amend a record in accordance with an student's request, the school must inform the student of his or her right to a hearing on the matter. If, after the hearing, the school still decides not to amend the record, the student has the right to insert a statement in the record setting forth his or her views. That statement must remain with the contested part of the student's record for as long as the record is maintained.

Graduation:

A minimum GPA of 2.00/4.00, or 70%/100%, and a minimum attendance of 80% is required for graduation. Additionally, the student must complete the Graduation Project. This graduation project is defined thusly:

Student must submit Fourteen Designs (Full Outfits) to AFS one week before graduation. Ten of these Designs (Outfits) can be from the Fashion Study Program course work. Four of the fourteen completed new Designs (Outfits) must have been Sketched, Tailored, and Created by the student without the help of the instructors. Of the 4 Designs done outside of the program there must be one of each of these category, Casual, Business, Semi-Formal and Formal.

A diploma is awarded upon graduation. A Formal Graduation Fashion Show Celebration Ceremony will be held with a minimum of 7 graduating Students.

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) (20 U.S.C. § 1232g; 34 CFR Part 99)

Federal law that protects the privacy of student education records. The law applies to all schools that receive funds under an applicable program of the U.S. Department of Education.

FERPA gives parents certain rights with respect to their children's education records. These rights transfer to the student when he or she reaches the age of 18 or attends a school beyond the high school level. Students to whom the rights have transferred are "eligible students."

Parents or eligible students have the right to inspect and review the student's education records maintained by the school. Schools are not required to provide copies of records unless, for reasons such as great distance, it is impossible for parents or eligible students to review the records. Schools may charge a fee for copies.

Parents or eligible students have the right to request that a school correct records which they believe to be inaccurate or misleading. If the school decides not to amend the record, the parent or eligible student then has the right to a formal hearing. After the hearing, if the school still decides not to amend the record, the parent or eligible student has the right to place a statement with the record setting forth his or her view about the contested information.

Generally, schools must have written permission from the parent or eligible student in order to release any information from a student's education record. However, FERPA allows schools to disclose those records, without consent, to the following parties or under the following conditions (34 CFR § 99.31):

- School officials with legitimate educational interest;
- Other schools to which a student is transferring;
- Specified officials for audit or evaluation purposes;
- Appropriate parties in connection with financial aid to a student;
- Organizations conducting certain studies for or on behalf of the school;
- Accrediting organizations;
- To comply with a judicial order or lawfully issued subpoena;
- Appropriate officials in cases of health and safety emergencies; and
- State and local authorities, within a juvenile justice system, pursuant to specific State law.

Schools may disclose, without consent, "directory" information such as a student's name, address, telephone number, date and place of birth, honors and awards, and dates of attendance. However, schools must tell parents and eligible students about directory information and allow parents and eligible students a reasonable amount of time to request that the school not disclose directory information about them.

Policy on copyright and software infringement

For network to share files, including (but are not limited to) AFS faculty and visiting faculty, staff, students, guests or agents of the administration.

Following are some examples of copyright infringement that may be found in a school setting:

- Downloading and sharing MP3 files of music, videos, and games without permission of the copyright owner
- Using corporate logos without permission
- Placing an electronic copy of a standardized test on a department's web site without permission of the copyright owner
- Enhancing a departmental web site with music that is downloaded or artwork that is scanned from a book, all without attribution or permission of the copyright owners
- Scanning a photograph that has been published and using it without permission or attribution
- Downloading licensed software from non-authorized sites without the permission of the copyright or license holder
- Making a movie file or a large segment of a movie available on a web site without permission of the copyright owner

If a notice is sent to AFS by an agent/agency that represent the artists and copyright holders. AFS will try and identify the individual or responsible administrator. If it is possible to determine the responsible party, that person is notified that they must remove the infringing material from their computer and let AFS know once this has been done.

If this is the first notification that AFS has received on an individual and the infringing material has not been removed from the computer within five days action, a report about the copyright violation will be sent out to the appropriate individuals.

If students are identified as having committed a second copyright infringement, AFS may take additional action appropriate to the AFS disciplinary process. If students are notified of copyright infringement a third time, additional sanctions may be applied.

Faculty, graduate students, and staff who are engaged in teaching and research functions are expected to understand and act in accordance with applicable copyright laws. AFS is obligated to exercise greater responsibility to address instances of repeated infringing activity by these individuals.

Upon receipt of a valid subpoena, AFS is obligated to turn over any electronic information regarding specific instances of infringing material that has been allegedly transmitted over its networks.

Copyright is legal protection of intellectual property, in whatever medium, that is provided for by the laws of the United States to the owners of copyright. Types of works that are covered by copyright law include, but are not limited to, literary, dramatic, musical, artistic, pictorial, graphic, film and multimedia works. Many people understand that printed works such as books and magazine articles are covered by copyright laws but they are not aware that the protection extends to software, digital works, and unpublished works and it covers all forms of a work, including its digital transmission and subsequent use.

The Digital Millennium Copyright Act (DMCA), signed into law in 1998, recognizes that digital transmission of works adds complexity to the Copyright Law.

DMCA infractions can result in serious consequences regarding activities of faculty, graduate students, or staff who are performing teaching or research functions if the school has received more than two notices of infringement against an individual within a three-year period.

In a civil action, the individual infringer may be liable for either actual damages or statutory damages of up to $30,000 (which may be increased to up to $150,000 if the court finds the infringement was willful). In addition, individual infringers may be subject to criminal prosecution. Criminal penalties include up to ten years imprisonment depending on the nature of the violation.

It is true that some copyright holders give official permission to download MP3 files and you might be able to find a limited number of videos that are not copyright protected. It is also true that some MP3 files are copyright free and some MP3 files can be legally obtained through subscription services. However, most MP3 and video files that are shared do not fall into any of these categories.

US Copyright Law allows you to create MP3s only for the songs to which you already have rights; that usually means you purchased the CD or downloaded a file via a subscription service. US Copyright Law allows you to make a copy of a purchased file only for your personal use. Personal use does not mean that you can give a copy to other people, or sell a copy of it.

The Internet offers a variety of legal entertainment alternatives, whether downloads or streaming, free or fee-based, DRM or DRM-free, well-known artists or surprising discoveries.

FOUNDER:

Jamileh Kamran
Designer, Couturiere

Jamileh Kamran was born in Iran and discovered her passion for design by the age of five. By thirteen, she was studying design and European techniques.

In 1978 Jamileh Kamran and her family moved to America. Upon arriving in the United States, Jamileh started her design business from her home. At the same time, she was raising her children, holding another full time job, and attending night classes at UALR to learn English and acquire computer skills. In March of 1990, Jamileh Kamran was able to open a shop outside her home. The shop was located at 3625 Kavanaugh.. From the beginning of her career, Jamileh Kamran made a promise to herself to help people by her involvement in a wide variety of non-profit organizations and charities.

A friend brought the Arkansas AIDS Foundation to Jamileh's attention in 1997. This foundation that helps people suffering with AIDS touched Jamileh's heart and became the focal point in her effort to help. Hoping to provide long-term financial support for the AIDS Foundation, Jamileh designed the Face of AIDS scarf/ties line. This fund raising effort drew the attention of the high profile people in Arkansas to this important cause. Even the White House paid attention and Jamileh became known as the "Scarf Lady". Jamileh's first Client was Mrs. Hillary Rodham Clinton as she was the First lady of Arkansas and continue designing for her as First Lady of United States.

Jamileh Kamran is an active participant in:

Arkansas Cancer Society
